LISTEN...

Emptiness does not engulf the cries, the chants, the familiar sounds of Jordan High. There is no silence when there are echoes of laughter, of music, of enthusiastic students in their daily routines. These echoes are alive; they always will be . . . . ever present in the memories of all "Beetdiggers."

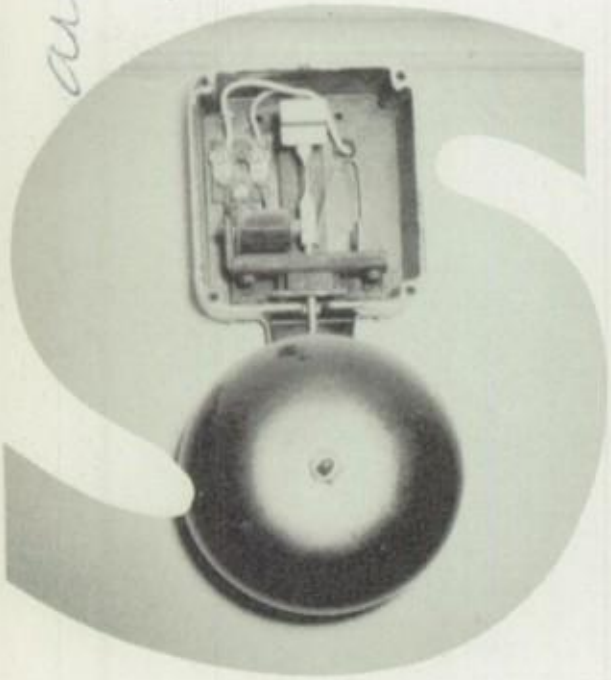
ECHOING THE



As a Jordan High School student hops off a noisy bus full of hubbub and confusion, he makes his way through rustling leaves, crunching snow, or along sun-splashed walks. A ringing bell calls him and his classmates, as shuffling shoes sound through halls and stairways. The typical "Jordanite" rushes through humming classes resounding with sounds of music, clicking typewriters, noisy shop machinery, or vigorous class discussions. He participates enthusiastically in shouting at games, applauding for performances, or listening to booming voices of would-be actors. He remembers vividly his actions and he relives them through reviewing the sounds of Jordan High, 1956.

Hi° Tuna

SUPERINTENDENT PETERSON

This is your book — your "Book of Memories!" Each time you thumb through its pages, the realities of yester-year will resound more vividly than you ever dreamed or thought possible. The sounds of "old school days" will live again and again to revive your meditating thoughts, and return you to the satisfactions you felt as a happy student of the high school you loved so well.

As time passes on, the creaks in the floor, the merry laughter in the halls, the sweet somethings or nothings your friend whispered to you at your side, and the sounds of activities everywhere about will seem to take on a more hallowed look and express themselves with greater clarity and meaningfulness than ever before.

As all of us get older, these same sounds of happy school days seem more true, more colorful, and more influential. Let's enjoy them to the fullest by listening to them again and again as we review this book.

PRINCIPAL McMULLIN

After ten successful years as principal, O. D. Ballard turns over the historic school bell to new principal, T. H. McMullin.

It is with pleasure that I endeavor to express to the students and faculty of Jordan High School my feeling of gratitude and appreciation for the fine cooperation and support that I have been given in my short stay as principal.

May I say that I am very humble in assuming the responsibilities of this position. I realize full well that my predecessors have been men of noble character with great foresight and unlimited capacity for work, who were ever ready to give to the school their time and talents in their role as leaders.

It will be my sincere desire and hope that I may carry on the splendid work that has been done in the past and that I may perpetuate the fine rich traditions that belong to the Jordan High School.

T. H. McMULLIN

PHIL F. GOLDBRANSON — Registrar and assistant to the principal, Mr. Goldbranson was also very active in debate instruction.

DUNN TAYLOR — Working as administrative assistant, Mr. Taylor directed the discipline and welfare of the students.

JESSE B. CASPER — In addition to being boys' counselor, Mr. Casper was in charge of scholarships and graduation eligibility.

MRS. EVELYN N. WOOD — Jordan High School girls' counselor, Mrs. Wood also supervised the activities of the Girls' Club and Jordanettes.

1955 BRINGS CHANGES

The fall of 1955 saw the greatest change in administrative personnel in Jordan's history. The most significant move was that which took O. D. Ballard, principal for ten years, into a district position. Mr. Ballard became the director of merit rating study. In his place, Jordan acquired T. H. McMullin, formerly principal at Bingham High School. Miss Afton Forsgren left her teaching duties to become acting state supervisor of secondary education. Benjamin Bruse, David Gourley, Don Parr, and Theodore Sjoblom were transferred to other administrative capacities in Jordan District. Charlotte Johnston and Anne Boucher left to assume family duties; Ruth Noall, Don Brown, and Arval Nelson also left their JHS teaching positions. New faculty members were Marie Goff, Carolyn N. Green, Reea Petersen, Ernest J. Bianchi, William R. Boren, Howard Evans, Ferrell Gunnell, and Norman D. Riggs.

AFTON FORSGREN — Miss Forsgren took a temporary leave of absence in order to serve as a state supervisor of secondary education during 1955-56.

IN MEMORIAM

ORSON SMITH — A man whose whole life was inseperably bound up with Jordan High School was Orson Smith. For thirty-five years he was a familiar figure in physics and chemistry classes, before retiring in 1952. As adviser to the Camera Club, he recorded school events by taking pictures for the yearbook. The death of Orson Smith on November 11, 1955, left a void in the lives of many, a memory of a man not soon to be forgotten.

CUSTODIANS — Wallace Benson and Lawrence J. Ainsworth, assistant custodians, receive instructions from Almy D. Dowding, custodian.

Sherman Day, president

Versatile Sherm Day divided his time between Boys Club duties, school work, and the varsity basketball squad.

Hi Curt -
Loads of BOYS CLUB
Eldon Weber.

OFFICERS AND ADVISER — Bob Day, vice president, and Sherrell Berrett, secretary, relinquish a few minutes of their lunch time to discuss a Boys Club activity with Frank Kamnikar, faculty adviser.

REPRESENTATIVES — Discussing plans for the Parents and Sons program are class representatives, Dan Nelson, senior; John Pollard, junior; Dale Kimball, sophomore; and Jack Player, senior.

THE SPIRIT OF GOOD FELLOWSHIP

Every JHS boy automatically became a member of the Boys Club upon entering high school. The club co-sponsored the Thanksgiving Party with the Girls Club. This activity included a dance, show, and refreshments. On January 25, the boys were hosts to their parents at the Parents and Sons Night Out. For entertainment, Jordan's traveling assembly, "An Arabian Nightmare," was premiered. The Boys Club helped to promote in each boy good citizenship, sportsmanship, and respect for his school and teachers. The year's program was under the guidance of the officers, class and home room representatives, and advisers. Working with Frank Kamnikar as faculty advisers were Murray Allen, Billy Boren, Chet Kim, Ray Oliverson, and Arland Russon.

Geraldine Whitmore, president

Encouraging every coed to take an active part in school affairs was the responsibility of popular Geraldine Whitmore.

GIRLS CLUB

THE HUM OF VIGOROUS ACTIVITY

Helping new girls become better acquainted and promoting good feeling between students and parents were the primary endeavors of the Girls Club. Along with co-sponsoring the Thanksgiving Party, the girls entertained their parents at a Mothers and Daughters and a Fathers and Daughters Night Out. A fashion show, program, and refreshments featured the evening in which the mothers were honored. Fathers escorted their daughters to an evening of fun and dancing. Junior and sophomore girls hosted the seniors at the Senior Tea near the end of the school year. The Stocking Stomp and the ninth grade welcome were other events sponsored by the active coed club. Evelyn N. Wood, Marie Goff, and Carolyn Green were the 1955-56 advisers.

THE EXAMPLE OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

Following the candlelight initiation ceremony at the beginning of the school year, the Charlonian Club began a year of service and marching activities. Sixth period every day saw the marching group practicing for novel and intricate half-time performances for three football and five basketball games. Those Charlonians not marching took care of the business of the club such as teas, at which visiting pep clubs were honored, and ushering. During Christmas time a big project was sponsored by the Charlonians and other clubs to help a needy family. In the spring they marched in the BYU Invitational Meet and sponsored the Charlonian Ball in honor of all lettermen. An assembly entitled "A Day at Jordan" was presented by the Charlonians on February 21. The purpose of the Charlonian Club, whose members must maintain a B-plus average, was to instill pep and enthusiasm in the students and create a friendly association with other schools.

Elaine Jenson, president

Setting the pace with enthusiasm and pep, cute Elaine Jenson led Jordan's Charlonian Club during 1955-56.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN — Taking time out from the busy Key Club schedule are Will Erekson, Wayne Ernstrom, Ray Bateman, Edward Miner, and Dan Nelson.

THE WILLINGNESS TO SERVE

Sponsored by the Midvale Kiwanians, the thirty-seven Jordan Key Club members spent a successful year in serving their school and communities. The Jordan chapter sent Marlon Andrus and Dan Nelson to the International Key Club Convention in Detroit, Michigan, during the summer. In serving the school, they sponsored the Initiation Dance, Courier poetry contest, Stocking Stomp, and Career Day. The boys also presented a program for the Midvale Kiwanis Club and gave forty dollars to a needy family for Christmas. To create more enthusiasm during the basketball season, they sold programs, "Hi Hats," and presented a scoreboard to the school. Rounding out their activities, the Jordan chapter participated in the Inter-Key Club dance at the Avalon Ballroom and helped with the Easter Seal Drive. Faculty advisers were P. M. Mickelsen and James Seal.

RED CROSS

THE HELPFULNESS OF YOUTH

The Jordan chapter of the American Junior Red Cross was organized under the supervision of Mrs. Evelyn N. Wood, with Edward Miner as student chairman. The group decorated at the Veterans' Hospital for the weekly dances, taking turns with the other schools of the area. The Home Economics Department made cookies and a layette, which the Red Cross donated to the Primary Childrens' Hospital for Christmas.

JORDANETTES

THE GROWTH OF LEADERSHIP

The comparitively new Jordanette Club was organized for the purpose of serving the school and promoting wholesome fun for the girls of Jordan. Membership was composed of student officers and leaders from the junior and senior classes. The girls participated in a summer workshop at the Spruces, where they planned future activities and received instruction from school, district, and state people. Christmas season meant caroling and a treat for the Primary Childrens' Hospital, and helping with the Sub-for-Santa project. Dr. Royal Garff from the University of Utah was the guest speaker at the Jordanette-sponsored All-Girls' Assembly. For fun, the club got together for a candy pull, bowling, and a swimming party.

OFFICERS AND ADVISER — Judy Bills, president; Mrs. Evelyn N. Wood, adviser; Arlene Sheppick, secretary; and Loretta Witt, vice president, get together to plan a Jordanette activity.

THE ASSOCIATIONS THAT BIND

The Jay Dee Club, whose aims were to increase friendships and enjoy social gatherings, had a busy schedule in 1955-56. Beginning with the initiation ceremony and turkey dinner, the girls resumed activities with their annual date party. A program was presented at the County Infirmary at Christmas time in addition to helping a needy family. After sponsoring a spring fashion show for all the girls of the school, the club contributed favors on Parents' Visiting Day. In April the 212 club members, whose enrollment made them the largest organization at Jordan, climaxed a full year with the annual Dog Patch Hay Day.

JAY DEES

FUTURE ENGINEERS

THE OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN

The Jordan High Future Engineers Club had as its goal to acquaint science students with the opportunities in the science field after graduation. Once a month the club members participated in a field trip to an industry where the application of science was demonstrated. Men in the science fields, primarily engineers, spoke at club meetings once a month also. Supervising these activities were Stanley R. Anderson and R. S. Peterson, faculty advisers.

OFFICERS AND ADVISER — Scheduling an Engineer Club field trip are Edward Patience, secretary; Keith Stephan, vice president; Val Finlayson, president; R. S. Peterson, adviser; and Van Lindsay, treasurer.

OFFICERS AND ADVISER — Fay B. Thomas, faculty adviser, illustrates commercial business techniques to DECA officers, Penny Reed, secretary; Claudia Cox, president; Annette Jenson and VeNae Burgon, vice presidents.

DECA

THE PRINCIPLES OF DISTRIBUTION

The Jordan chapter of the Distributive Education Club of America encouraged the training of students in buying and selling techniques. Students became eligible for membership by enrolling in one of the required distributing courses. Jordan representatives attended the DECA State Convention in Salt Lake City and the whole club enjoyed themselves at a chicken dinner party. To raise funds for projects, popcorn was sold at football games. Fay B. Thomas instructed members in classes and extra-curricular DECA activities.

THE TRANSMISSION OF SOUNDS

Organized during the 1955-56 school year, the Radio Club did not get into full swing last year because of complications in the formation of a constitution. The idea behind the organization was to create an interest in amateur radio broadcasting. Future plans are to help students obtain their amateur radio licenses by setting up code and radio theory classes. When these goals are reached, it is hoped to set up an amateur radio station at the school. Donald Budge was the faculty adviser.

RADIO CLUB OFFICERS — Roy Stuart, secretary; Russell Schneider, vice president; and Dale Frandsen, president, examine Jordan's loud speaker equipment.

LANGUAGE CLUB

THE UNDERSTANDING OF OTHERS

To promote better understanding of foreign countries and their peoples was the primary goal of the Language Club. Anyone taking a foreign language was eligible to belong to the club. Activities during the year included a Christmas party, at which there were games and refreshments; the Sub-for-Santa project; and dinners composed of foreign foods. Faculty advisers were Miss Golda Fraser and Lowell Boberg, who instructed students in French and Spanish classes.

FHA

THE HOMEMAKERS OF TOMORROW

The Future Homemakers of America was an active group during the past school year. Through classes of sewing and cooking, girls worked toward FHA goals of becoming better homemakers. With the FFA they sponsored the Sweethearts Ball on February 11. Other extra-curricular activities included a swimming party with Cyprus High School on February 23, a skating party with the FFA, a candy pull in the Jordan kitchen, and a spring party which included a movie and a dinner.

THE BUILDING OF MEN

"Learning to do, doing to earn, earning to live, living to serve"— by this motto, the boys of the FFA spent hours studying agricultural methods in class to take to their own farms as practical examples. Through their membership, the boys tried to develop community leadership. The annual Sweethearts' Ball was under the co-sponsorship of the FFA and the FHA, and included the crowning of a queen and king. The FFA also sponsored the Harvest Ball in the Fall. The Jordan chapter participated in many FFA activities which built the boys in the field of vocational agriculture. They sent judging teams to the various state and local contests and practiced new and more progressive ways of farming. Through this activity, the future farmers were assured of a better and easier way of making a living. Paul C. Boyce and Donald Budge taught the boys in academic classes and advised extra-curricular Future Farmers of America club work.

Robert Bailey, president

Managing to find time out from studies and speech activities, Robert Bailey led the FFA by example and leadership.

CAP

THE SCIENCE OF AVIATION

The aim of the Civil Air Patrol was to acquaint students with the importance of aviation. The Cadets gained experience through watching films from the Air Force and operating their own radio station at Jordan. New members had orientation flights, when they went up in an airplane and learned the fundamentals of flying. For the first time at Jordan, the CAP sponsored the Cadet Hop, on February 21. Officers were chosen to lead the group; and advisers, Donald Budge and Arland Russon, instructed the boys in aviation techniques.

CADETS TRAIN IN CLASSES — Milton Jenkins practices in the link trainer in Mr. Budge's third period class.

RIDING CLUB

THE FUN IN RECREATION

The Riding Club found only a few students who were sincerely interested in horse riding as an extra-curricular activity. However, this did not stop those who were interested; and they organized the Riding Club with Paul C. Boyce as their adviser. The group visited the Whitmore Arabian Horse Farm and the Lazy Bar Riding Farm, and watched pictures of different types of horses.

LETTERMEN CLUB

THE LEADERS IN SPORTS

Boys earning letters in any one of the high school athletics automatically became members of the Jordan High Lettermen Club. Banquets were held at the close of each sport season to honor the participants. Maroon and gray jackets were selected and purchased by lettermen, who were advised in club activities by all coaches, headed by Howard "Tuff" Linford.

OFFICERS AND ADVISER — Daryl Walbeck, vice president; Lyle Hughes, secretary; and "Tuff" Linford, adviser; admire the new letterman jacket worn by Mickey Jones, president.

THE GOOD TIMES IN WINTER

Jordan High School students who enjoyed skiing and the winter season became enthusiastic participants in the activities of the Ski Club. They started out the year with a date party at the school. Weekends found members having fun at one of the Utah ski resorts. In March, the annual afternoon-evening party was held at Alta. Helen Seaman and Yvonne Schofield were the faculty advisers during the school year.

DANCE CLUB

THE ART OF CREATION

The girls of the Dance Club were always ready to provide entertainment for all school activities and special occasions. They composed their own dances under the excellent supervision of Miss Yvonne Schofield, and performed in floor shows, the traveling assembly, the Mother and Daughters program, and at other events. The girls were chosen as members of the club at the close of their junior year. A closing party climaxed a successful year of cultural activity.

THE GROWTH OF CULTURE

To further the use of speech throughout Jordan High School and the surrounding communities was the goal attained to by the 1955-56 Masque and Gavel Club. Following the initiation ceremonies at the beginning of the school year, they followed a schedule of busy club meetings. The meetings consisted of skits by members and parliamentary procedure according to Robert's Rules of Order. Club members ushered for the school play, presented a pep assembly, sponsored king and queen candidates for the Harvest Ball and the Sweethearts' Ball, and sold pom-poms for the Class A basketball tournament. "Sing Out Sweet Land," a play presented by the University of Utah, was attended by the Jordan club. Those belonging to the organization, who were presented Masque and Gavel membership pins, put on a one act play, "The High Window," for the student body. A back-stage party and the initiation of new officers climaxed a busy nine months of speech activities. Faculty advisers were Miss Betty Zieve, C. N. Crawford, E. L. Crawford, Phil F. Goldbranson, and Norman D. Riggs.

QUILL AND SCROLL

THE EXCELLENCE IN JOURNALISM

The Quill and Scroll is an international honorary society of high school journalists. Its members were qualified for membership on the basis of outstanding publication work. When initiated, each new member was presented with a gold pin, a year's subscription to Quill and Scroll magazine, and a membership card.

PRESS CLUB

THE CREATION OF COMPOSITION

Students of journalism classes and all publication staffs were eligible for Press Club membership. Being busy Jordanites, they sponsored the Jordan District Press Conference, attended the U. of U. and B.Y.U. press conferences, and conducted a tour to various newspaper offices and television studios. The initiation of new members and group parties were other activities of these busy Jordan journalists.

FORENSIC LEAGUE

THE EMINENCE OF ORAL COMMUNICATION

The Forensic League is an honorary speech organization, whose members become eligible to join through participation in the required number of speech activities. The Western District National Forensic League Speech Meet was held at Logan, Utah. Winners from this contest then entered the final competition which was held at Muskogee, Oklahoma. The Award Banquet at the completion of the school year brought certificates to members who had received different degrees through forensic work.

BEETDIGGER

SOUNDS . . . SOUNDS . . . SOUNDS

"Echoing the sounds of '56" — We learned a little about physics . . . we gained knowledge concerning layout and writing . . . we practiced the fundamentals of good photography . . . we discovered the problems of scheduling pictures, obtaining information, and meeting deadlines. We learned many techniques associated with the production of a good high school yearbook. However, our learning did not conclude with the acquiring of factual knowledge. We gained a sense of responsibility, an enjoyment through association, and an essence of accomplishment. We often deplored our seemingly insurmountable task . . . but, we found enjoyment through "echoing the sounds of '56."

Carol Anderson, co-editor
Layout, art work, and copy kept Carol Anderson busy working on the '56 Beetdigger.

LITERARY STAFF — Donna Dunyon, associate editor, and Ted Richards, sports editor, pause from their work on copy sheets to be "snapped" by a yearbook photographer.

ART STAFF — Associate Editor Arlene Sheppick checks the art work of a trumpet sound wave being drawn by Don Blasius, artist.

BUSINESS STAFF — Discussing their big "Yearbook Week" are Genielle Evans, Sheila Hamilton, Linda Larsen, Irene Nystrom, Sandra White, and Renee Henschke.

Lorna Sjoblom, business manager
Working hard to promote yearbook sales, Lorna Sjoblom organized an efficient business staff.

"GET YOUR YEARBOOK EARLY"

Boosting and recording the sale of the 1,050 yearbooks was the job of the Beetdigger business staff. During the big "Yearbook Week" in March, posters, announcements, and skits reminded students to buy their annuals. The business staff arranged for the selling of pages to clubs, classes, and other groups to raise money for the production of the 1956 Beetdigger.

FACULTY ADVISERS — Stanley R. Sharp, editorial staff adviser, and E. L. Crawford, business staff adviser, discuss the '55 Jordan All-American yearbook as "Frosty" and "Toya" look on.

STAFF MEMBERS — Charon Meeker and Judene Casper, assistant editors, point out a pending deadline to Lorna Millerbeg, Marilyn Newbold, and Donna Cain.

BROADCASTER INFORMS JORDANITES

The Broadcaster, the Jordan High School student newspaper, was compiled by staff members and junior journalism classes. Ten informative and interesting issues were published during the school year; six were six-page editions and four included two-page junior high school inserts. The Christmas and final editions were special Broadcaster issues. For the fourth time in as many years, the Broadcaster won an International Honor Rating from the Quill and Scroll International Journalistic Society. The paper was named for high honors for the second time by the Northwest Association of High School Journalists and also won the Quill and Scroll Gallup Award. The Broadcaster was published by the Midvale Sentinel.

"J" BOOK TELLS ALL

The Jordan High School directory, the "J" Book, was produced by the Broadcaster staff and the executive council. Miss Oralie Rawson was the faculty sponsor. The directory consisted of 1,500 addresses and telephone numbers of the students and administrators of Jordan High School. Included in the book was a calendar, list of officers and publication staffs, school song and yells, athletic schedules and returning lettermen, scholarships available to graduating seniors, and the constitution of the Association Students of Jordan High.

PICTURES PROJECT SOUNDS

The photography classes spent a busy year doing work in theory and lab. Students photographed, developed, and fully processed picture assignments. Stanley R. Sharp instructed the Photography II class. This class was composed of the two yearbook photographers who attacked the tremendous task of completing picture assignments for the school annual. Murray F. Allen's Photography I class was a group of students who took pictures for the newspaper, school organizations, and their own purposes.

SPONSORS OF LITERARY EXPRESSION

Featuring the best short stories, essays, poetry, and other literary writings of Jordan High students, the Courier made its appearance late in April. It was wearing a snappy white cover with a modernistic design. A new feature of its contents was the publication of three prize winning short stories and three money-winning poems. Ora Pate Stewart, a distinguished writer and former Jordan alumna, gave two autographed sets of all her published books to be awarded to the short story contest winners. The Jordan Key Club gave three cash prizes for the best poems. Mr. Hendrickson's creative writing class contributed much to the Courier publication.

GROUPS DISPLAY MUSICIANSHIP

The Jordan High School bands provided musical entertainment on many different occasions throughout the school year. The twirlers and marching band performed at the Jordan District and University of Utah band days, and at half-time of Jordan football games. The concert band played selections at the Parents' Program, the Band Festival, and the Spring Musical Show. School spirit and enthusiasm were given to the student body when the Pep Band played at all home basketball games. J. Clement Crapo directed all band activities. Mr. Crapo served on the committee of choral directors for the High School Honor Chorus of Salt Lake Valley held in June of 1955. Officers of the band groups were Joe Baker, president, and Floyd Alldredge and Edwin Pond, student directors.

MUSIC DEPICTS MOODS

One of the most important activities of the orchestra during 1955-56 was playing for the "Messiah." With J. Clement Crapo as director, the symphonic group prepared a melodious program for the Seminary Convention, participated with the band in the Spring Musical Show, and entered some selections at the Regional Music Festival.

WORDS AND MUSIC TELL STORY

Under the direction of J. Clement Crapo, the thirteenth annual rendition of George Frederick Handel's "The Messiah" was presented to the public on December 19 and to the Jordan student body on December 21. Participating in the program, which included such favorites as "Halleluja," "Worthy Is the Lamb," and the "Amens," were a chorus of 215 students and a forty piece orchestra. Janet Gammell, soprano; Nancy Higginson, contralto; Kenley Whitelock, tenor; and Leland Matthews, baritone; were featured soloists. Roy M. Darley was organist; Ila Howard, Donna Dunyon, and Lee Workman accompanied. The stage crew assisted with the production which was sponsored by the music department and the Jordan L.D.S. Seminary.

MESSIAH PRINCIPALS — Jordanites taking active parts in the Messiah presentation were Leland Matthews, baritone; Ila Howard, Lee Workman, and Donna Dunyon, accompanists; Nancy Higginson, contralto; and J. Clement Crapo, director.

ARSENIC AND OLD LACE

Joseph Kresselring's "Arsenic and Old Lace" was presented to the Jordan High student body and the general public on November 16, 17, and 18. The three act play was sponsored by the Masque and Gavel Club. Miss Betty Zieve capably directed the thrill-packed mystery comedy which had a cast of 14 players. Stage and lighting were under the supervision of Royal D. Madsen and the stage crew. Donald P. Olsen was in charge of the posters and scenery. Makeup chores were handled by Norman D. Riggs, Miss Reea Petersen, Mrs. Carolyn N. Green, and C. N. Crawford. Robert L. Pixton managed the advertising, Lowell J. Boberg the music, and Murray F. Allen the programs.

TRAVELING ASSEMBLY

AN ARABIAN NIGHTMARE

Written and directed by Lowell Boberg, the 1956 traveling assembly played to 6,000 people during eight performances. The program was premiered at the Fathers' and Sons' Night Out on January 25. Proceeding performances were for Murray, Tooele, Cyprus, and Olympus high schools, and the Union PTA. On February 1, "An Arabian Nightmare" was presented to the Jordan student body during a split assembly. The seventy-five cast members displayed their talents as they told a story about the writer of a delinquent book report. The traveling assembly orchestra provided background and solo music for the show. Assisting Lowell J. Boberg on the faculty committee were Yvonne Schofield, J. Clement Crapo, Kenneth Brady, Royal D. Madsen, Betty Henderson, and Betty Zieve.

SPEECH ACTIVITIES

STUDENTS CULTIVATE VOCAL PERFECTION

A collection of the finest speech efforts of the year was displayed by the students of Jordan at the several speech festivals. Forensic and speech enthusiasts demonstrated their abilities through techniques gleaned from classes and contests. Regional festivals were held at Tooele and Olympus high schools. Those receiving excellent or superior ratings became eligible to enter the State Speech Festival held at the Brigham Young University.

PANTOMIME — Catherine Morelli, Joan Grant, Marylyn Lang, and Pat Fitzgerald show their approval of Kareen Nielsen's interpretation of an old lady arising in the morning.

HUMOROUS READINGS — Mary Howlett, Leici Whetman, and Pat Smith simultaneously illustrate excerpts from their humorous readings for the Interpretive Speech Festival.

CONTEST PLAY — Paul Nielsen, Doug Heaps, Robert Bailey, Michael Ivie, Dan Jorgensen, Bruce Rosenhan, and student director Gayle Farnsworth, rehearse for the contest play presentation on April 4, at Olympus High School.

DRAMATIC READINGS — Diane Jensen, Nancy Higginson, and Janice Richardson catch Geraldine Whitmore in a pose from her dramatic reading.

GRIDDERS RESPOND TO CHALLENGES

It was an off-and-on season for the 1955 Jordan High football team. Under the coaching of Tuff Linford and Grant Martin, the Jordan squad opened the season with an 0-2 pre-season record. The Diggers were impressive in their first two games, downing Cyprus and tying highly-favored West. With spirits high, the team traveled to Kaysville only to be upset by the Davis Darts. They felt defeat at the hands of the East High Leopards, but with their win over Granite and their big upset over Murray, the Diggers had hopes of championship berth, only to be dropped out of the picture in the last game of the season by Tooele.

FUTURE VARSITY STALWARTS SHOW PROMISE

Like the varsity, the Jordan junior football team made only a fair showing in the won-lost column, but they showed great promise for the future. Under Coach Art Hughes, the J.V.'s opened the season with a victory over Cyprus. They faltered when they met West, but defeated Davis their next time out. The last three season games saw a win over Granite and losses to East and Murray.

SOPHS GAIN EXPERIENCE

Coach Ray Oliverson's first year Jordanites learned how to block and tackle, and the fundamentals of the single wing this year. HONORS ECHO GRAPPLERS' SUCCESS

Coach Ray Oliverson built a strong wrestling team with thirty-three boys taking part. Although the Jordan team started slowly they wound up the season with four matches won and five lost. In the February regional meet at Olympus High School, Jordan qualified three wrestlers for the state finals. All three boys came through with Burton Anderson winning first place in the 165 pound class, Bobby Campbell second in the 145 pound class, and Lawrence Mangum fourth place in the heavyweight division. This trio made enough points in the final meet for Jordan to cop sixth place in the state. Co-Captain Burton Anderson finished three years of wrestling at Jordan never losing a match.

BASKETBALL

Art Hughes, basketball coach

1956 was another outstanding year for Coach Hughes' basketball team. Tying for the Big Ten first place honors, Art took his defending State Champs to the state "A" tournament where they captured second place laurels. Under his coaching Jordan High basketball teams have brought home four state championships and two second place state trophies during his seven years at Jordan.

"GO BEETDIGGERS, GO BEETDIGGERS, GO, GO, GO!" — Five Davis players and Jordan's Karl Miller see Daryl Walbeck score two for the Beetdigger squad.

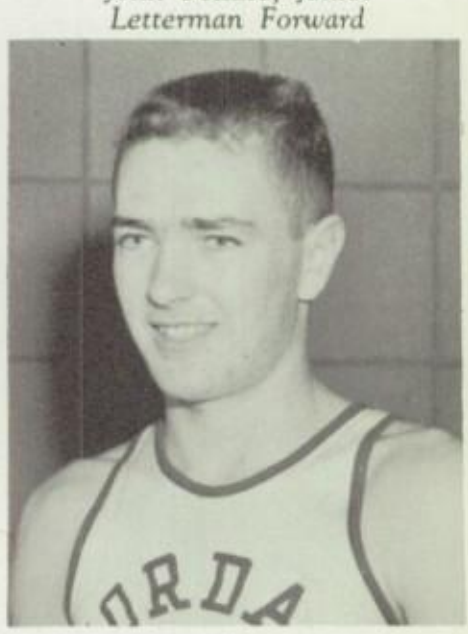
"WE WANT A BASKET!"— Beetdiggers, Karl Miller and Mark Klotovich, hope for two more as Benny Cutler goes in for a lay-up in the Jordan-Cyprus game.

CHEERS ENCOURAGE TEAM

Aided by the support of a loyal and encouraging student body, the '56 Jordan High basketball squad showed their potential by winning seven games and losing one in pre-season play. Opening their Big Ten competition on January 6, the Beetdiggers triumphed over Cyprus High. By winning their next nine games, the defending State Champs snared a first place tie with the East High Leopards. The team went into the state "A" tournament with a Big Ten record of ten wins and no losses.

BASKETBALL MANAGERS — Richard Nielsen and Craig Rasmussen were always ready to assist Coach Hughes in the many duties of their job.

John Pollard, junior
Letterman Forward



Sherrell Berrett, junior

"GET THAT BALL JORDAN!"— Mark Klotovich and Karl Miller fight for possession of a loose ball in the Jordan-Cyprus game as Jack Player comes in to assist.

"MAKE THAT BASKET!"— Two South High Cubs are out-maneuvered by Jordan's Benny Cutler and Karl Miller.

STATE "A" TOURNAMENT

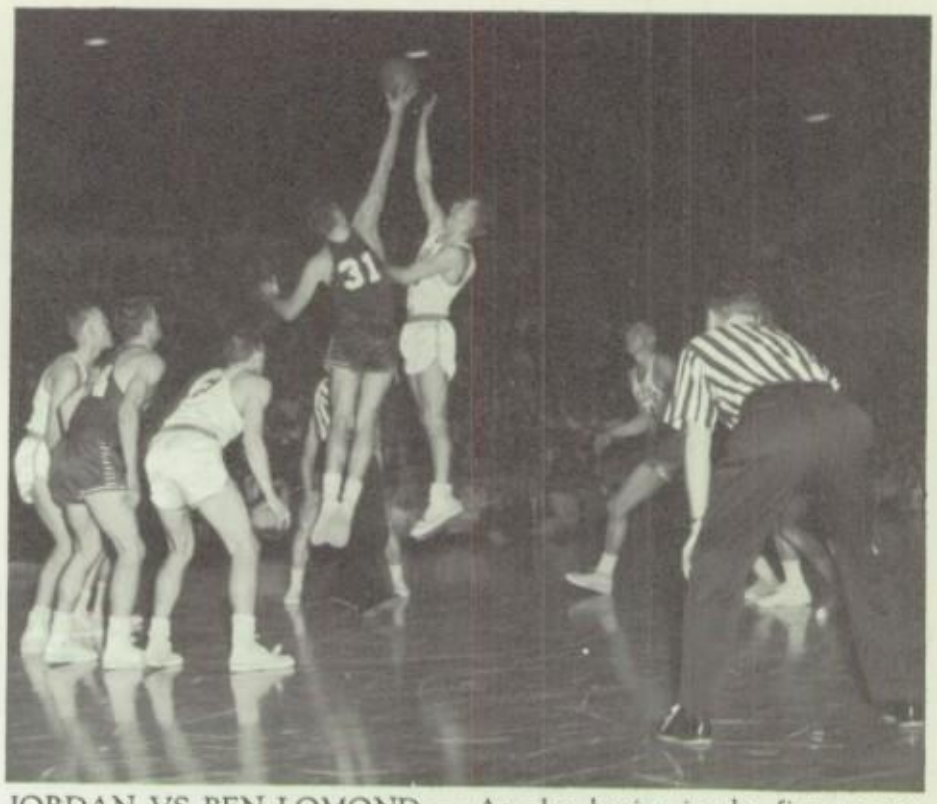
CHAMPIONSHIP GAME — A Provo player goes above the Jordan defense in an attempt for a basket.



JORDAN VS BEN LOMOND — As play begins in the first tournament game, Jordan's Karl Miller captures the initial tip-off.

JORDAN VS BEAR RIVER — Mark Klotovich goes up for two in Jordan's second tournament game, against the Bear River Bears.

"OUR CHAMPS"

The Beetdiggers from Jordan High entered the 1956 State "A" Tournament with spirits high. The Diggers won their initial game from the Ben Lomond Scots by a score of 58 to 55. The second night of play saw the defending State Champs victorious over the Bear River Bears, 49 to 44. Jordan met Provo in the championship game and fell, 42 to 41. Playing in true championship form, the 1956 Beetdigger team will long be remembered for their valiant try at a fourth consecutive crown.

"BLOT THAT SCOT"— Jordan's happy and noisy cheering section gives their encouragement to a fighting Beetdigger team in their initial game.

TEARS TELL THE STORY — Mixed reactions met the defeat of the Beetdiggers by the Provo team, but long will students remember the championship spirit of Jordan High.

JV'S CAPTURE FIRST PLACE LAURELS

For the second consecutive year, Coach Grant Martin's junior team won the league championship. The JV's defeated the junior teams from Cyprus, Tooele, Davis, and Murray twice. With their victories over Olympus and South, they finished the season undefeated in ten league and five pre-season games. Coach Grant Martin left Jordan for another post at East High School, but his fine record in junior basketball will not soon be forgotten.

JV'S VS CYPRUS — Mike Ganz gains possession of a Cyprus rebound as Kent Beers and Raymond Yasukochi look on.

SOPHS VS WEST JORDAN — Clifford Goff shoots for a basket while Brent Price and Nile Beckstead watch with five West Jordan players.

SOPHOMORES DISPLAY DETERMINATION

Jordan's first year basketeers started slowly, losing their first four games to Tooele, Davis, East, and Bountiful. They made a late season drive and won their three final games from Murray, Cyprus, and West. With their spirit and determination, the 1957 JV team is likely to be outstanding. The sophomores were coached by Howard "Tuff" Linford.

Ray Oliverson, track coach

Under the excellent coaching of Ray Oliverson, the 1954 and the 1955 track teams won first place honors in Regional Track Meets. Coach Oliverson's 1956 crew hoped to make it three in a row.

RELAY — Ted Richards takes the baton from Mark Klotovich as they compete in the mile relay.

TRACKSTERS WIN HONORS

With the 1955 track team's victory in the regional meet, this year's team looked forward to a third consecutive crown. The '56 team had added experience and depth; both were advantages over the '55 team. Beginning the track season on March 30, Coach Oliverson's boys met Pleasant Grove and Lehi on the Beetdigger field. Following this event, the Jordan team met Cyprus and Tooele, Granite and Olympus, and Murray and Olympus.

TRACK TEAM — Row One: Dale Gold, Joedy Ball, Ken Oakeson, DeLoy Osborne, Bob Campbell, Ralph Brinton, Mickey Jones, Bruce Rosenhan, Karl Miller, Benny Cutler, Mark Klotovich, David Lloyd, Ted Richards, Leon Ewell, Ralph Muir. Row Two: Curtis Cook, Kendall Voyce, Frank Lessley, Don Campbell, Don Fullmer, Dennis Woodward, Karl Baird, Terry Labrum, Garth Beckstead, Gary LeFevre, Mike Ganz, Lawrence Mangum, Jay Workman, Jimmy Kemp, William Mitchell, Ned Parry, Ralph Walker. Row Three: Harold Grimaud, Kent Allsop, Dan Nelson, Clifford Goff, Russell Larson, Emmett Lessley, Gary Fullmer, Brent Price, Robert Rawson, Raymond Brenneman, Richard Watts, Val Smith, Reynold Johnson, Nile Beckstead, Mike Parry, Mike Heinecke.

LOW HURDLES — With skimming speed, Ken Oakeson and Benny Cutler leap over a track barrier.

TRACK

FIELD EVENT — Robert Rawson and Bruce Rosenhan display good form in the discus and shot put.

JAVELIN — Karl Miller fires the javelin for a record distance.

EXCITEMENT SOUNDS ACROSS THE DIAMOND

With the warm days of spring approaching, the Jordan nine looked forward to a successful baseball season. Under their new coach, Bill Boren, the squad hoped to improve Jordan's league standing and provide a winning combination of good hitting, pitching, and fielding. Coach Boren and co-captains, Sherman Day and Daryl Walbeck, led the team into the first league game with Cyprus High School on April 9.

FOCUS — Maureen Shepherd, Rosemary Jensen, and Shirleen Beck center their attention on Irene Nystrom as she demonstrates a dance fundamental.

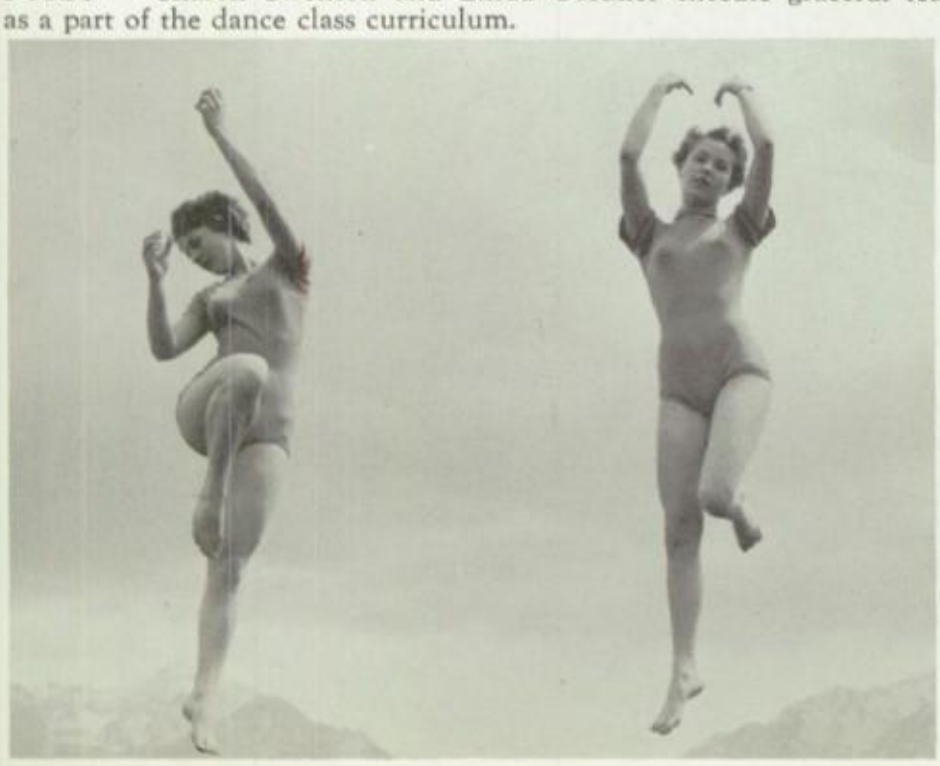
DANCE CLASS

DANCERS PRACTICE CHOREOGRAPHY

Enthusiastically, dance class students began the school year by conditioning their bodies with exercises. Each girl was given the opportunity to help create a dance, which gave them training in choreography and composition. In addition to the valuable recreation benefits, Miss Yvonne Schofield sought to develop poise and grace in her dancers.

MOVEMENT — Joyce Boswell, Sharon Dean, and Jackie Hall develop body coordination through creative dancing.

FORM — Sharon Swenson and Linda Gardner execute graceful leaps as a part of the dance class curriculum.



COMPOSITION — Joan Maddox, Sharon Palmer, Jeannette Jones, Sheri Aaron, and Mary Lee Wilkinson practice formation techniques.

SHUFFLEBOARD — Evelyn Montague takes her turn playing shuffleboard as Judy Brady, Linda Jones, Bonnie Dansie, and Edith Rains watch.

TENNIS — Nancy Hughes and Jeneane Hudson watch Mary Javaine hand Sandra Price a tennis racquet for a game on the Jordan court.

SHOUTS ECHO ON FIELD AND FLOOR

Participation in sports was also an important part of school life for girls attending Jordan. This activity developed fine body-coordination, balance, and poise. The physical education program gave every girl an opportunity to find at least one sport she could like and would be capable of playing. Students were taught in classes by Miss Helen Seaman and Miss Yvonne Schofield.

CROQUET — Showing croquet techniques are Pamela Welch, Sharon Smith, LaWanna Webb, Teresa Rosales, and Martha Hernandez.

GOLFING — Physical education students, Sharon Tucker, Edna Burr, and Diane Mumford, improve their golf game.

GIRLS' SPORTS

KICKBALL — Carol Ann Keen, Pat Duffin, Glenda Hardcastle, and Doris Lloyd participate in an outdoor spring sport.

ARCHERY — Gayle Conger, Judy Bunnell, Sandra Barney, Karlene Humphrey, and Maxine Vunder take time out to display their good marksmanship.

RACING — Loa Graham gets ready to give the signal, "Go," to Carmen Barba, Louise Bernardo, Judy Zafft, and Evon Despain.

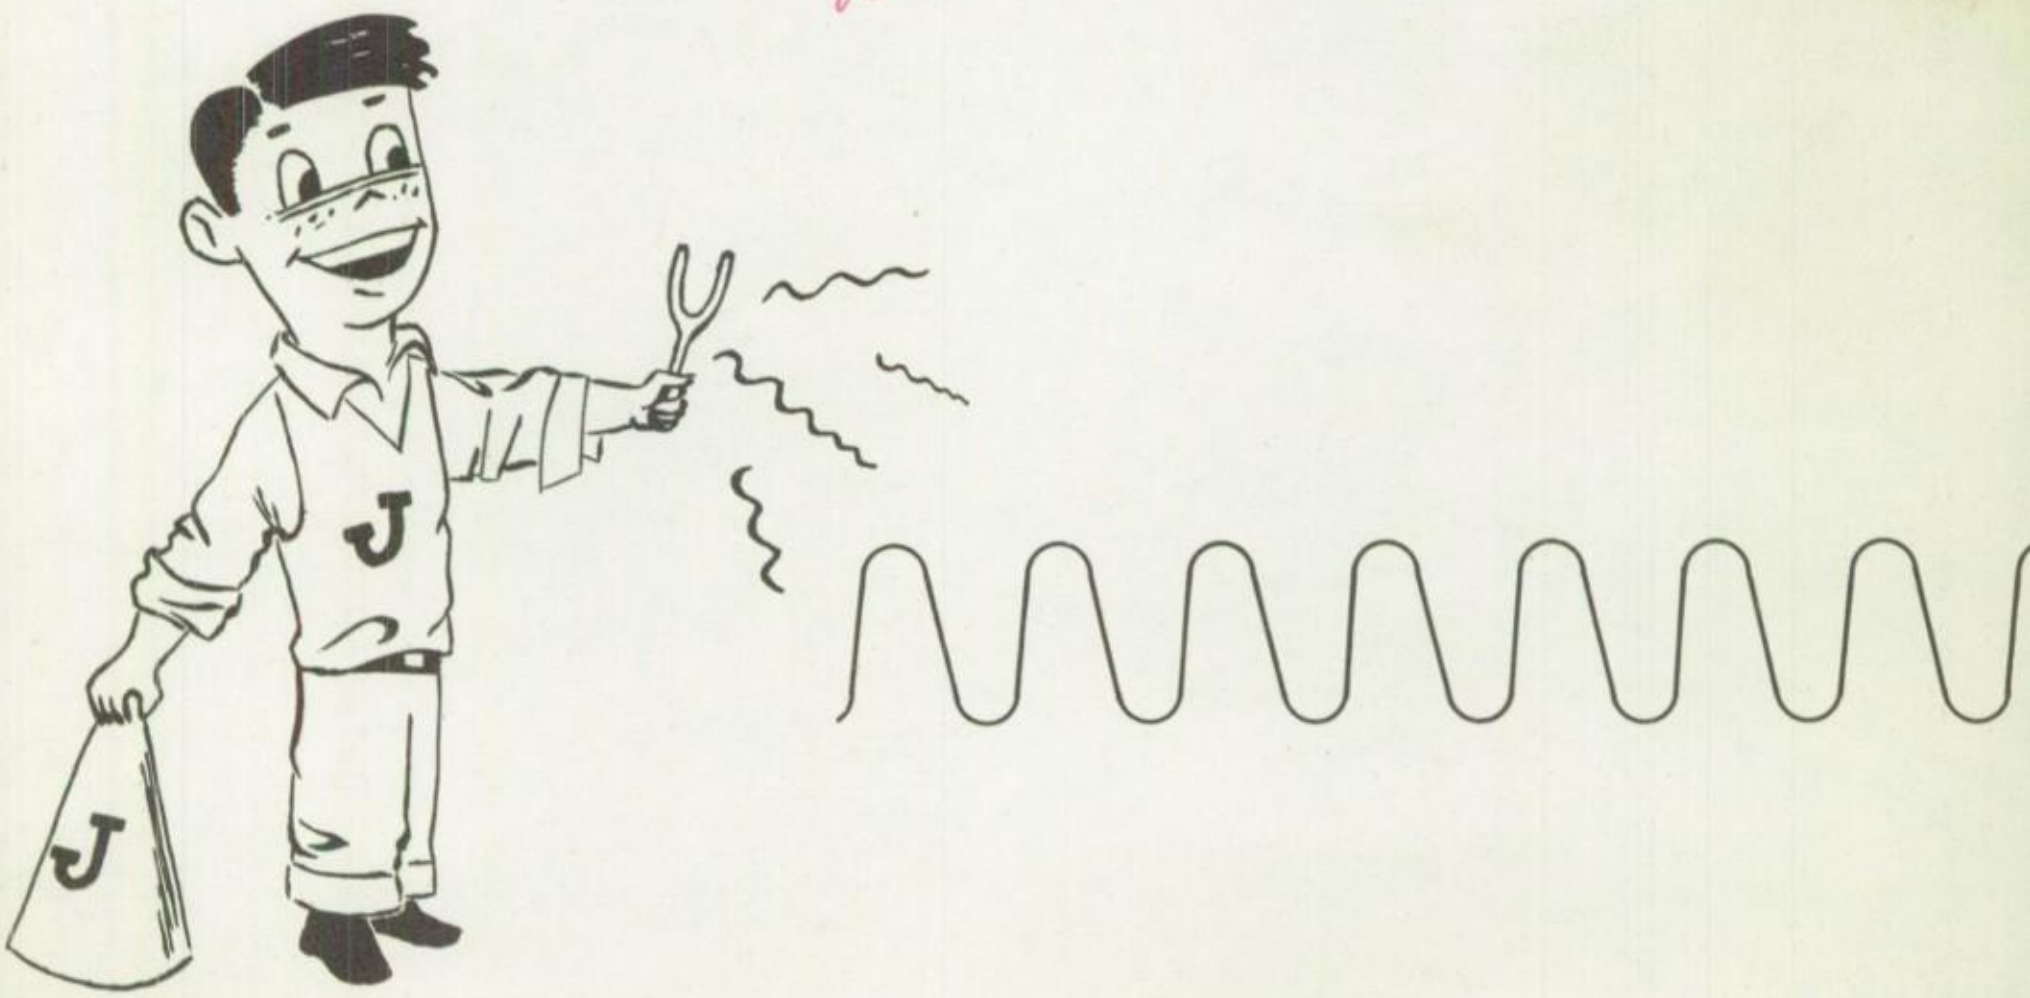
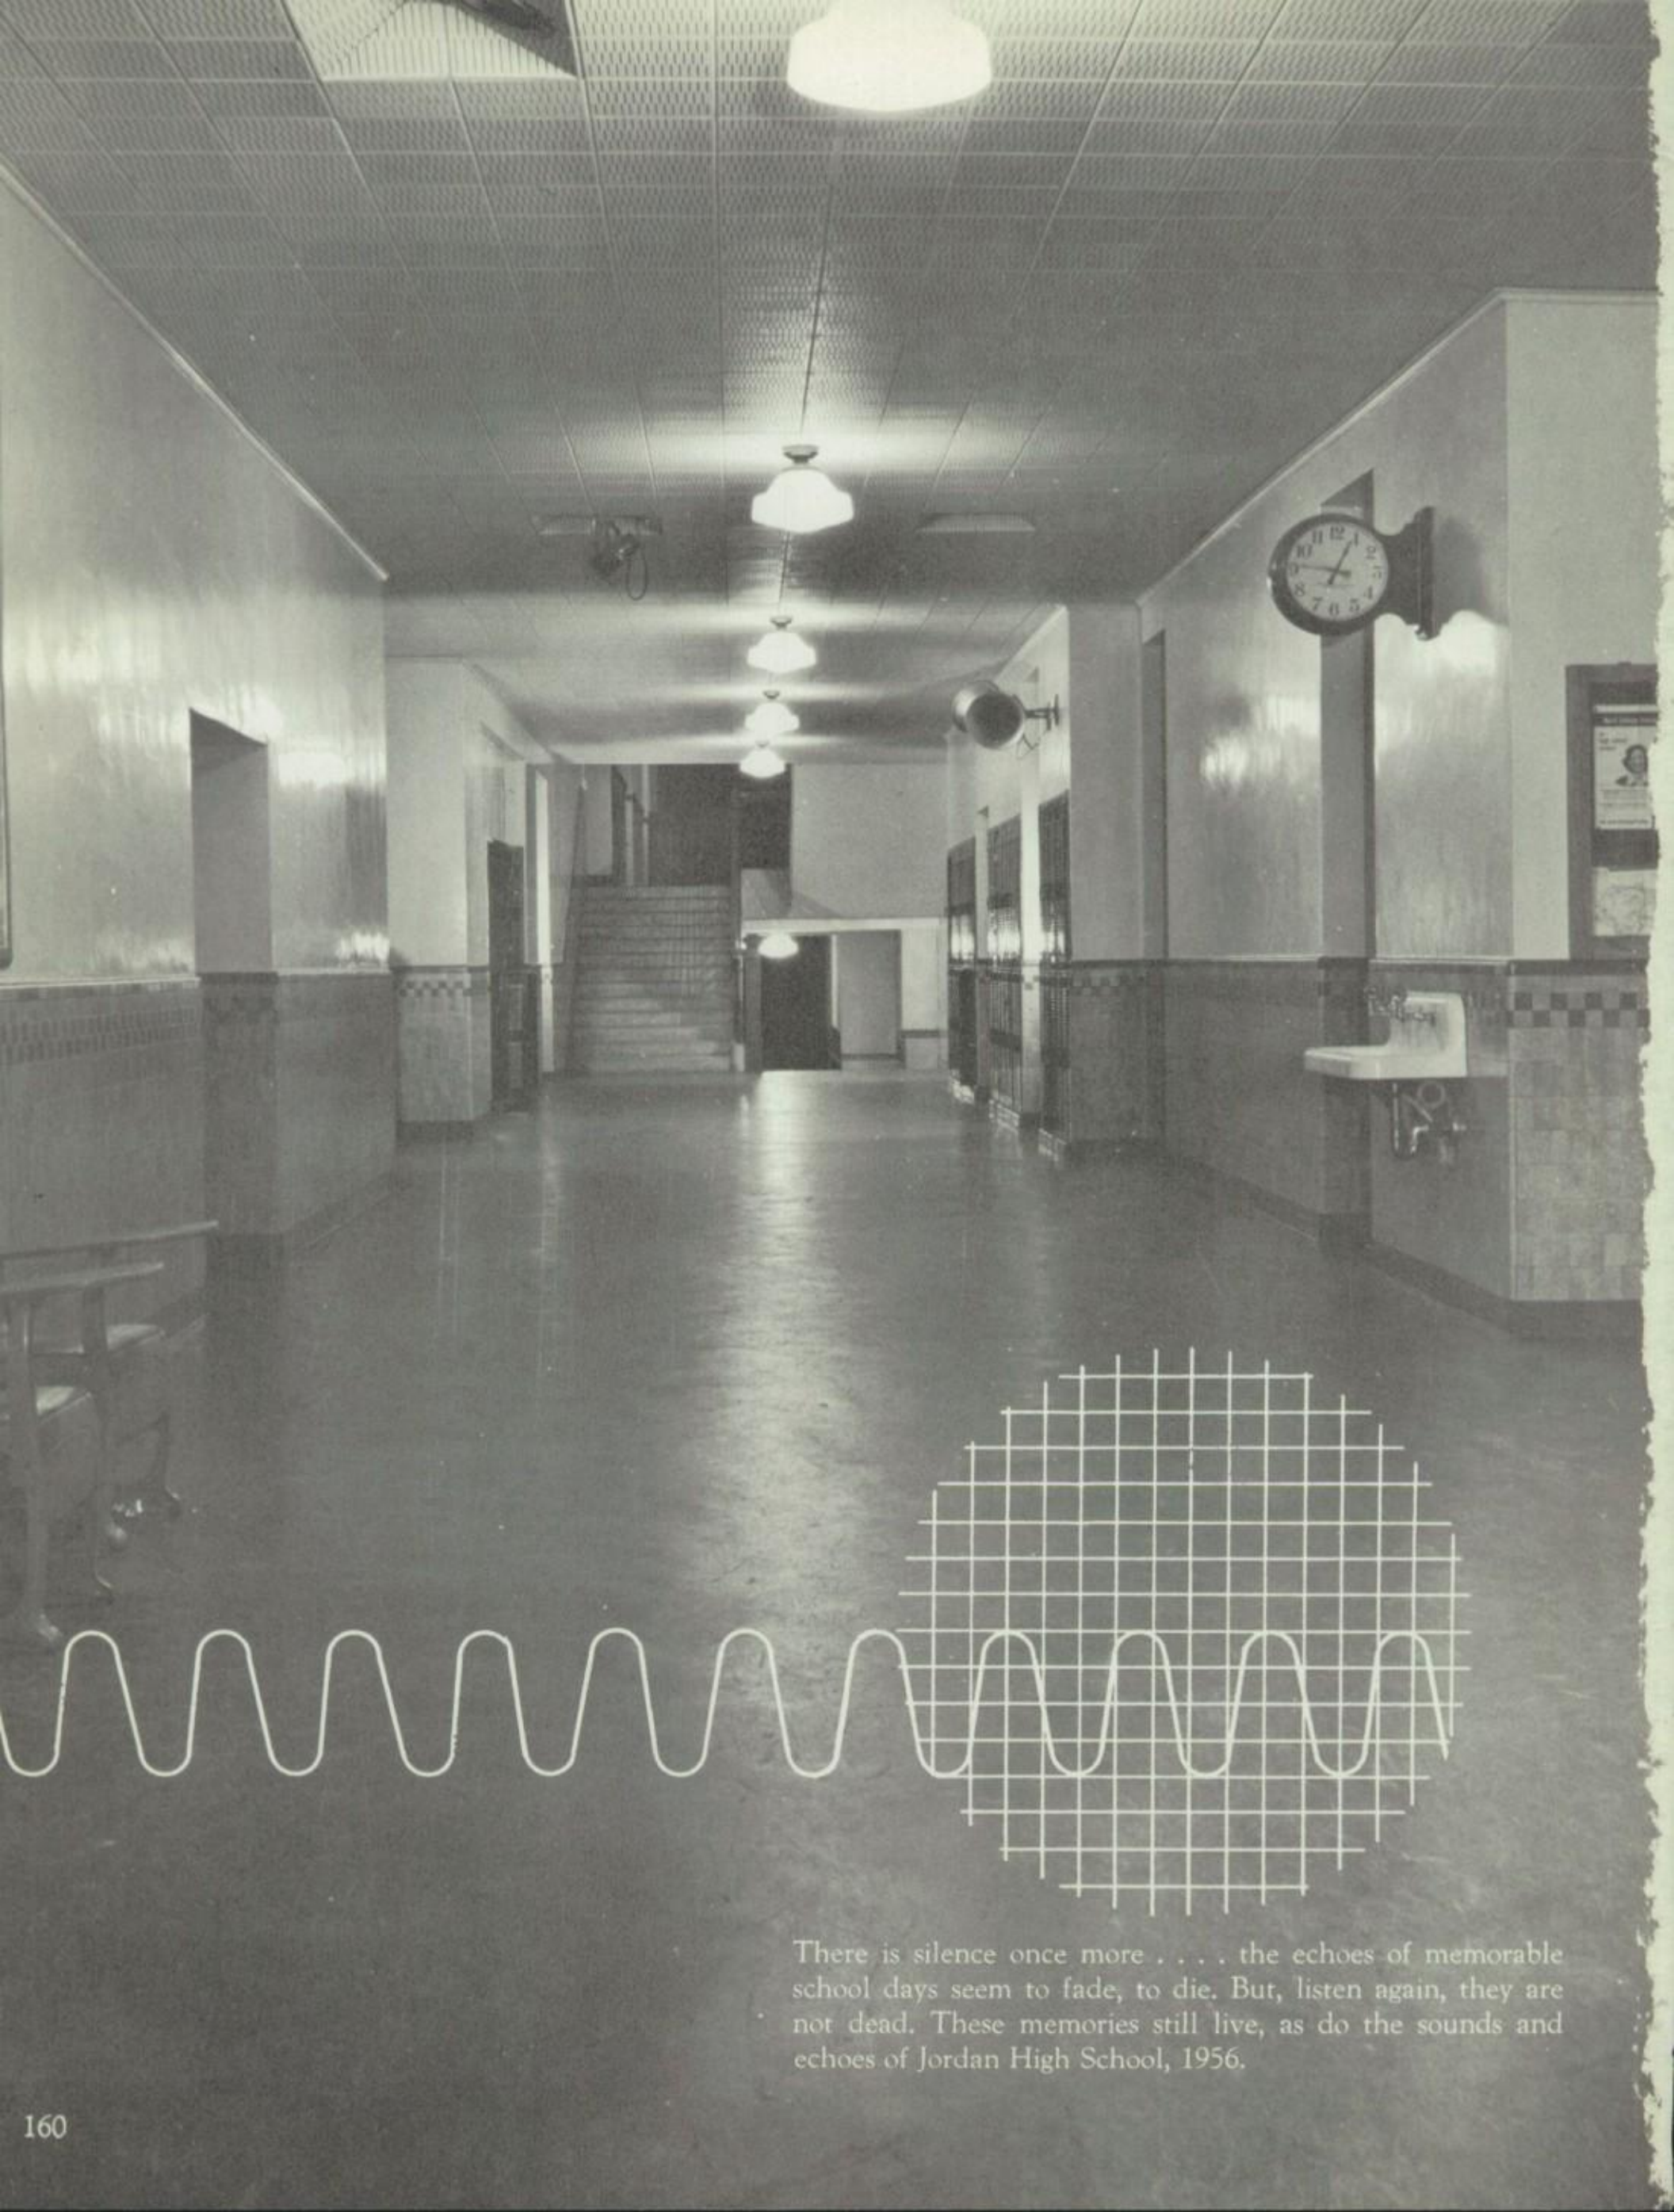
Hi! Lots of Luck to a great guy.
A Pal
Brenda Bateman





There is silence once more . . . . the echoes of memorable school days seem to fade, to die. But, listen again, they are not dead. These memories still live, as do the sounds and echoes of Jordan High School, 1956.

Good Luck,
Ray Allison

Bud Wiesner

Hi Curt
I don't really know
you too awfully well. But you seem like a terrific kid. In my Book you the best always stay as nice as you are. Good Luck
